242 HIGH SCHOOLS HAVE PLAYERS SELECTED IN 2019 NFL DRAFT

TWO SCHOOLS – ALLEN (TX) HS & COCOA (FL) HS – TIE FOR MOST WITH THREE PLAYERS CHOSEN AS ROOKIE MINICAMPS BEGIN THIS WEEKEND

With the 2019 NFL Draft now concluded, the incoming class of drafted rookies will soon experience their first taste of NFL life, as rookie minicamps take place around the league May 3-5 and May 10-12.

And while the drafted rookies enter the NFL from a variety of different backgrounds, one thing they generally all have in common is an outstanding experience playing high school football.

A total of 242 high schools contributed to the 254 players selected in the seven rounds of the Draft on April 25-27.

Two high schools – ALLEN (Texas) and COCOA (Florida) – had three players selected, while 10 high schools – BOOKER T. Prior to the Draft, the NFL announced the creation of the NFL LEGENDS YOUTH ADVISORY COMMITTEE to assist and guide efforts to preserve and grow youth & high school football through peer-to-peer engagement.

Led by NFL Legends MARK BRUNELL, TRENT DILFER, MAURICE JONES-DREW, WILLIE MCGINEST, JORDAN PALMER, CHAD PENNINGTON, MICHAEL ROBINSON, DEION SANDERS and BOBBY TAYLOR, the Committee will generate inspiring conversations with youth and high school football communities about the values learned from playing football. Robinson, along with San Francisco 49ers sixth round selection TIM HARRIS, attended Varina High School in Richmond, Va.

"I love the game of football and want kids of all ages to have the opportunity to participate in it," said McGinest, who attended Long Beach (CA) Polytechnic, the same school as Baltimore Ravens fourth round selection IMAN MARSHALL. "I joined the NFL Legends Youth Advisory Committee to help young people learn the game in the right way, with the proper coaching and guidance. For me and the way I teach the game, football is not just about X's and O's. It instills foundational principles – principles that have guided and directed me during each important step of my life. Football opened up multiple opportunities for me and kept me on the right course. It saved my life. By playing the game, kids also learn not only about football, but so much more – accountability, teamwork, sportsmanship, discipline and responsibility. It's about skills and lessons they too can apply for the rest of their lives."
